About the Facilitator:

Karen Mace (Registered Counsellor)

Karen completed her Master of Arts in Psychology in 2004 with her thesis looking at immigrant job hunting behaviour in the New Zealand labour market. The results of this research were subsequently published in the New Zealand Journal of Psychology and presented at various conferences. Karen is currently completing her internship with Enable Workplace Consulting as a Provisional Psychologist. Her experience includes careers in Energy, Manufacturing, Healthcare and ten years assisting people in overcoming multiple barriers in their lives through Adult Education. Following the completion of her Diploma of Counselling in 2017, Karen actively uses her psychology and counselling skills in her work. Karen is looking forward to assisting you in your transition from study to work.

Enable Workplace Consulting specialises in enabling organisations to get on with their core business rather than spending time dealing with workplace issues
